

Journal of Automation, Mobile Robotics and Intelligent Systems

Instructions for authors

Journal of Automation, Mobile Robotics and Intelligent Systems (JAMRIS) is a scientific, refereed, research-based quarterly, published by Industrial Research Institute for Automation and Measurements PIAP. Topics include, but are not limited to, fundamentals of automation, robotics, distributed systems, navigation, sensors, mechatronics biomechanics and mobile computing. Only original manuscripts, published nowhere else before, can be accepted for publication in the JAMRIS.

Preparation of the manuscript

Manuscript should be written in English (British English is preferred), using 12-point font, double-spaced, in a single column format with 2.5 cm margins, and not more than 20 A-4 (21 x 29,7 cm) pages length. Prepare your text using a word processing program and save it as a .doc or .rtf file. Please, save figures in additional single files as .jpg or .tif with 600 dpi definition (picture files) or in .xls (Microsoft Excel format is preferred). You may also add full version (text and figures) as a .pdf file, auxiliary for printing. All figures should be labeled.

We don't expect camera-ready manuscripts.

Additional requirements:

- All tables and figures should be refereed in the text.
- References – at the end of paper – in following format (example): A. Author, "Title", Journal, vol. 1, 2000, no. 1, pages 1-11 [for periodicals]. OR: A. Author, Title, London: Publishing House, 1900, pages 34-89 [for books, proceedings etc.].
- Manuscript should include abstract (300 words or less).
- Footnotes must be numbered.
- On the top of the manuscript – the author(s)'s last and given names, organization, postal address, zip/postal code, country as well as telephone, fax number and e-mail address of the corresponding author should be given (marked with asterix).
- Acknowledgement (e.g. for financial support) should be written at the end of the manuscript.

Also research notes and book reviews (up to 4 A-4 pages) can be accepted.

Authors are recommended to proofread their texts before the final submission. Typographical errors are corrected according to the instructions of the proofreading. Major errors are sent back to the author.

Articles are reviewed by two independent reviewers, designated by the Editor –in-Chief in agreement with the Editorial Board and the Program Committee.

Manuscripts should be submitted online

1. establish user's account at www.jamris.org/authors\_area.php and log in
2. submit a file with the paper – at this level you can choose arbitrary format
